STRONG AGAINAfter The Grippe She Took Vinol Which Quickly Restored Her Strength

MANY SUCH CASES HERE

MRS. G. A. JOHNSON

Sullivan, Ohio.—“The grippe left me weak, all run-down, no strength, and no ambition, but as I am a farmer's wife and mother of eleven children, I had to keep about, although I was not fit to do so for much of the time.

My Doctor recommended Vinol for my condition and it helped me right away, increased my appetite, built up my strength, increased my weight, and my cough disappeared.”

—Mrs. G. A. Johnson, Sullivan, Ohio.

The reason physicians recommend Vinol for such cases is because they know it contains the healing curative elements of old fashioned cod liver oil (without oil), also iron and beef peptones which are the best blood and body building tonics known. Price $1.00 per bottle, guaranteed. F. B. Johnson & Co., Drugists, Rushville.—Advertisement.

Flimsy Garb Is
Peril To Race

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Flimsy garb of girls spells peril to the race, Dr. Clara P. Seippel, eminent women's specialist, said today.

The study type of American womanhood is becoming extinct and a frail, scrawny species is in process of evolution, the physician declared.

Rolled hose and short skirts are the present expressions of extreme dress which started some years ago and resulted in the immaturity of the present generation, Dr. Seippel said.

“There is doubt,” said Dr. Seippel, who treats thousands of girls and young women each year, “that what the girl of today is not as well developed as the one of 20 years ago. Now we have the girl of straight lines, not the well proportioned girl of yesteryear.

The girl of today, dressed in thin silk hose, short skirts and satin panties has no protection against the cold. She may as well wear nothing from the knee down. This causes the body to become frail as the bodily heat so necessary to proper development is dissipated. A decade ago girls were muffled from ear to feet as men are today. The modern girl has an insatiable desire for candy. This is because heat of the body is spent rapidly due to scant dress. It is nature's way of trying to furnish more fuel for the tissues.”

Dr. Seippel stated many of the ills of womenkind are caused by constant exposure over a period of years. This condition is aggravated, she said, by the present day tendency of young girls to stay out late at nights, thereby missing the rest necessary to proper development.

Extremity in dress has caused a lowering in the birth rate, she declared.

“Many young women have been kept from motherhood because they did not dress adequately during their girlhood,” Dr. Seippel declared.

The doctor, who has been active for years in girls' welfare work, emphasized she reached her conclusion after twelve years experience in administering to girls and women. She said she gave the exclusive interview to the United Press so that her message would reach many who would not otherwise have received it.

“I am not an alarmist,” she concluded. “I am deeply concerned, though over present conditions. However, I believe nature will provide a remedy for the vexing condition in some manner.”

Trade Improvement

When a war tax was first placed on railroad passenger fares, it was commonly regarded as an easy way of assessing a luxury. People looked at travelers as vacationists who were chasing around the country having a good time. They thought that a tax on these fares would hit a class of people who were spending money freely on pleasure, and would never object to paying eight percent more to help out the government.

A census of the travelers by rail, however, would show that the majority are not tourists. The bulk of them are salesmen and other business people in search of trade, or workers going and coming between homes and places of employment.

The commercial traveler is the advance agent of prosperity and one of the most vital factors in the industrial machine. He helps his customers pick out the kinds of goods that will sell, and he informs them what other merchants are doing.

As the result of the information he distributes, the doubts and hesitations of business people are removed, and the retail stores place the orders that start up the machinery of production. But for the past two years traveling has been so costly, and high freight rates have a tendency to check sales, so that many concerns have restricted their operations.

Investigators do not believe O'Connor, who escaped from a Chicago jail when he was about to be hanged, had anything to do with the robbery. It is believed the bandit used the gunman's name to cover up his identity.

Mystery shrouded the identity of the New York bank which is supposed to have forwarded the valuable consignment Poll of banks in Grand Rapids, Michigan, where the bonds were supposed to have been consigned, brought forth denials of any knowledge of the shipment from bankers there.

Greatest Basketball Tourney in History of State is Expected on March 3 and 4

496 TEAMS NOW ENTERED

When Toursneys Were First Held Two Dates Decided Champion But Now 3 Meets Are Equipped

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—A new world's record will fall on Indiana this year in the state high school basketball tournament. There will be more teams entered than ever before—more than ever was entered in a basketball tournament any place in the world.

Another record will be broken in attendance. More people will witness the sectional, regional and state meets than the great indoor sport has ever claimed before.

With 496 teams already entered in the eleventh annual sectional basketball tournaments, there is every reason to believe that the number may reach 600 by Feb. 20, when the entries close.

The Indiana High School Athletic association has done great things for athletics since it was organized in 1904, but no one thing has won such a firm hold on the hearts of the people as the annual basketball tourney to decide the state championships.

At first sectional and final tournaments were all that was necessary but as interest increased the idea of regional tournaments was introduced. There will be thirty-two sectional tournaments this year just as there were last season, but about one hundred more teams will take part. These sectionals will be held March 3 and 4, at the following cities: Anderson; Angola; Attica; Bedford; Bloomington; Brazil; Columbus; Crawfordsville; Decatur; Evansville; Fort Wayne; Franklin; Greencastle; Huntington; Indianapolis; Kokomo; Lafayette; Lebanon; Logansport; Owensville; Richmond; Rochester; Marion; Mooresville; Newcastle; Rushville; Scottsburg; South Bend; Union City; Valparaiso; Vincennes and Warsaw.

The board of control of the I. H. S. A. has been very careful to select cities where the basketball floors are large and the lighting is good so that real basketball can be played. They have selected playing floors where the seating capacity is exceptionally large and all the district tournaments will be witnessed by crowds of at least 2,000 and where the building is large enough by 5,000 basketball fans. Even then there will be many disappointed because they can't get in.

The Regional Toursneys will be played March 11. The winners in one-half of the thirty-two sectional tourney will play at the big Indiana University gym in Lafayette. There will remain eight undefeated teams at both Bloomington and Lafayette and they will fight it out for the state championship, March 17 and 18, at the state fair grounds in Indianapolis. More than twelve thousand basketball fans witnessed the final game last year in the Coliseum. It was the largest crowd that ever saw a basketball game in any city in the world.

Milroy K. of P. C. Team Triumphs Over Up-County Independents by Score of 34 to 28

RUDDLE CAGES 7 BASKETS

The Fairview A. C. basketball team lost their first game of the season Tuesday night on the floor at Milroy, when the K. of P. team of that place wallop them, 34 to 28, in a fast and rough contest. Ruddle starred for Milroy with seven baskets and Hill figured best for Fairview, caging five shots.

When the half way mark rolled around the count stood 15 to 10 in favor of the winners and in the last half Fairview could not overcome the few points margin.

The line-up and summary:

Milroy (34) Fairview (26)
J. Osterling F Hill
Richey F Link
Ruddle C Peters
Johnson G Seales
Harcourt G Royalty

Substitutions: Fairview, Kirkpatrick, H. Peters. Field goals, Osterling 4, Richey 5, Ruddle 7, Hill 5, Peters, Seales 3, Kirkpatrick, H. Peters 2. Foul goals, Ruddle 2, Peters, Royalty.

High School Authorities Preparing to Handle 1,500 People For Game Friday Night

QUAKERS OUT FOR REVENGE

Rushville Will Have Strongest Team Ever Representing High School on The Hardwood

Fifteen hundred people are expected to witness the basketball game here Friday night when the first real test for the Rushville high school tossers will come, meeting the Richmond team as their foes and the locals will put forth one big effort to make the game the tenth straight victory.

It will be the start on the last lap in the schedule of hard games that face the local squad, and the contest also will usher in the best team that has ever represented Rushville high school on a basketball floor.

Stewart and Headlee will make a real pair of forwards, and with Phillips at floor guard, speed will be the big factor, and with Pugh at center and Frazer at back guard, a complete team will be in the field.

The most encouraging part of the layout this season is the fact that Coach Sutton will have substitutes to fall back upon which are high above the average. Casady, who has a regular berth, can fill in perfectly at forward or at floor guard and Sparks also ranks along the top as a forward.

Cross is a new first string candidate, who is an excellent guard, and who will go in training for the back guard position, which will be left vacant when Frazer graduates. Somerville also fills in the center position in good shape.

The strength of the new line-up can be judged from the fact that a practice game was held Wednesday night between the squad and the Webb high school, which resulted in a 53 to 4 score. Stewart caged 10 field goals, and Casady, Headlee and Pugh each registered five. Phillips was not out for practice, and Casady played the floor guard position. Talbert for Webb made the four points in the first half of the game, and the locals used substitutes before the close of the game.

Richmond has a stiff team and presents a different line-up, from the one which was defeated by five points at Milroy in the opening game of the season. Since that game Richmond has defeated the following team by one sided scores: Elkhart, Hagerstown, Eaton, O., Hamilton, O., Union City, Winchester, and Ridgeway. The Richmond team lost, 19 to 16, to Muncie on a neutral floor at Union City, but Richmond was minus two of their best players.

The Quakers also have two new players who go into the game here Friday night, as these players have been ineligible or several weeks, and they are counting on a victory and are out or revenge for the defeat that the locals gave them last year at Richmond.

The preliminary game Friday will be played between the second team here and the Center high school team. The curtain raiser will begin at 7:15 and the big contest an hour later.

MOSCOW TEAM VICTORIOUS

Carthage Yankee Five Defeated on Home Floor, 35 to 20

The Carthage Yankee Five lost to the Moscow Independents at Carthage Tuesday night by the score of 35 to 20. The Moscow team was in the lead throughout the contest and had too large a lead to be headed. The Carthage team will play the Odd Fellows of this city next Tuesday night at the local gymnasium, and the Carthage Reserves also will tangle with the Rushville Shamrocks in the curtain raiser.

Anderson All-Stars defeated the Carthage Reserves in the preliminary contest by a 17 to 13 decision. Anderson fought hard for the win and clinched it only in the final minutes of play.

FACES ANOTHER FIGHT

Detroit, Jan. 19.—Carl Tremaine, who defeated Jabez White at Windsor last night in ten rounds, today was made defendant in a $40,000 breach of promise fight. The action was brought here by Miss Audrey Littell, who charges Tremaine is the father of her three children.

YALE WINS FIRST ONE

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 19.—Yale won its first basketball game of the season last night, defeating Colgate 21 to 15.

High School Dope
By MR. E. H. S.

Mid-year exams are over. The slaughtering of grades will keep the teachers busy for the remainder of the week. In the meantime, no school.

Those poems that were written by members of the Junior English class were handed to us the other day. Some were good and others were not so good. We selected what we thought were the four best ones. Owing to lack of space we will have to run them on the installment plan. In the following poem, the youthful poet appeals to the Muses for an inspiration:

O Muse of Song, divine assistance lend

To one who's in despair,

To one who never poem penned

Or sung of maidens fair;

Who never told in accents bold

Of heroes' mighty deeds,

Who now unto your altar comes,

And with you for succor pleads.

If when my spark of genius' fanned,

A poem shall emerge,

Mathinks I'll take my pen in hand

And write a funeral dirge.

O Muse, please help me this one time,

Because I need just one more line.

SEES LESSON IN PILATE'S ACTION

Rev. W. H. Hemphill at First United Presbyterian Church Uses Trial
to Drive Home Truths

WOULDN'T ACKNOWLEDGE SIN

Pilate, Like Many Another, Charges
it up to Account of the Nation,
Evangelist Says

Despite the rain and sleet of Wednesday night a goodly company assembled at the First United Presbyterian church to hear the gospel message. The theme was taken from the trial of the Lord in the court of Pontius Pilate. Pilate was pictured as an astute politician willing to hold his official position, even though justice should miscarry. He listened to testimony, weighed the evidence presented, pronounced the prisoner innocent and then deliberately delivered Him over to His enemies to be crucified.

"Pilate, like many another, refused to acknowledge his sin," the Rev. Mr. Hemphill said, "but charged it up to the account of a nation willing at that time to assume the responsibility. 'His blood be upon us and upon our children' was the awful prayer. And history shows how the sin of the parents was visited on their children for this crime of the ages." Modern instances were cited to show the application of this law.
Children often suffered for the sin of fathers and mothers.

"Pilate washed his hands in water before the multitude," the evangelist continued, "but all the water of the ocean could never cleanse his guilt. The only remedy for the guilt of any sinner, either great or small, is The blood of Jesus Christ, which cleanses us from all Sin."

A strong plea was made to accept of this Saviour which God has provided. "If we reject Him, like guilty Pilate, or the nation that clamored for His death, we must bear the penalty each for himself," the speaker said. "God has set the time for Salvation. It is now, the place is just where you are. The plan is arranged and it is up to each to attend to it for himself.

Tonight the topic for discussion will be "Healing of Hamon the Syrian."

Mrs. Ione Churchill today filed

FORMER RUSHVILLE MAN BEGINS CAREER AS AN ARTIST AT THE AGE OF 67 YEARS

(Courtesy of the Denver Post)

Jacob Feudner, For Many Years
Publisher of Republican, Takes up Brush to Gratify Life-Long Ambition And Finds Little Easel a Shrine at Which He Spends Several Hours Each Day.

Jacob Feudner, for many years
owner and publisher of the Republican, who was compelled to retire several years ago and go to Denver, Colorado, on account of failing health, took up painting three years ago and has attained more than a local reputation as an artist in Denver. The following article by Albert W. Stone, which appeared recently in the Denver Post with the above illustrations, best describes what he has accomplished in art during the past three years:

White-haired with the snows of sixty-seven winters, face lined and seamed with age and eyes dimmed by the years, Jacob Feudner has launched himself joyously upon a career in art.

Jacob Feudner lives in Denver in a little red brick house at 1114 Clayton street. Three years ago, at the age of 64, he decided the time had come to begin the gratification of an ambition he had nursed from childhood. Hitherto he had been unable to do more than attempt the painting of an occasional water color; for the demands of life for himself and a growing family dictated that he must WORK.

Today the old man has retired, as he expresses it. But the front room of his little red brick house contains an easel, a palette and a full complement of delicate artists' tubes and brushes. Several por-folios of pictures lie about. There is always a partly-finished picture on the easel; and each morning Jacob, the "grind" of life behind and its allurements and joys before, sits at the easel and, by deft touches with his brushes and paints, creates pulsating beauty where only drab, euvas was before.

The old man formerly was a newspaper man in Rushville, Ind. In that little city he published a daily paper and operated a job printing plant. It was not easy work; any one who has published a small town daily can testify to that. It was work, morning, noon, and night—and sometimes well into the morning hours. There was a good-sized payroll to be met every Saturday night, besides paper bills and the like.

Jacob Feudner, with the desire to express himself in creative art smoldering within his breast, had to keep that desire constantly smothered.
The necessity of making a living precluded everything else.

Finally, however, when his hair had whitened and his sturdy frame began to show the ravages of age, the old man held communion with himself.

"I am getting old," he said. "For half a century I have worked! It is time that I began to play, if I am to play at all before I die!"

So he incorporated his publishing business, sold out to the present four stockholders, and turned the control over to his son. Gathering together his savings of years, he boarded the train and came to Denver. Without delay he went to Frederick Hodges,
the Denver artist.

"I want to study art," he said.
Hodges stared at him in astonishment.

"Study art," he echoed. "Why, man, you are older than I am!"

"Maybe I am," said Jacob Feud-ner with a smile. "Just the same, I want to learn how to paint."

Arrangements were made, and the oldest art student that ever wielded a brush—so far as the west is concerned, at any rate—began to learn the intricate technic and mechanics of the artist's profession.
For a whole year he kept it up.

"All right," he said one day.
"Now I am equipped to enjoy myself for the rest of my life."

Since that time he has painted steadily—two hours a day at the least, and sometimes more. Dozens and dozens of pictures have been turned out by his hand. Some of them are photographs that he collers until they take on marvelous life. Others are free hand work. He paints wonderful landscapes. He paints pastoral scenes and splendid maritime views. His power of color and harmony is nothing short of genius. A passionate devotion of nature, he brings to his creations the subtle touch that makes them live.

Nor is all this work for the purpose of commercial gain, either, now or ultimately. Jacob Feudner's pictures are not for sale. You can't buy them. He doesn't even try to have them exhibited, although he has pictures that would grace any art gallery and attract the favorable attention of connoisseurs. He never shows them to callers at his little home, unless he is specifically asked.
Retiring to a degree, the aged man's diffidence amounts to positive shyness. He paints pictures for the joy of creation—not for the approbation of others, although he is properly appreciative of any words of sincere praise.

In Indiana, Feudner was a warm friend of United States Senator James Watson. His paper exercised a strong and widely felt influence in local politics. Even today he keeps abreast of the times by thorough perusal of the daily papers and magazines. But, first of all, each morning come the two joyous hours at the easel.

He indicated the easel.

"If it were not for this," he said,
"life wouldn't hold so much for me now."

A half century of struggle for the attainment of an independence is behind Jacob Feudner.

A future filled with the joy of creating beauty is before him.

His little easel is a shrine at which he worships the wonderful goddess, forgetting all that has gone before in the wholesome joy of the present.

Mr. Feudner sent several of his paintings to his children, Mrs. Hilary Haydon and Will Feudner and to several of his friends from this city who have visited him in Denver.

DOES LAUNDRY WORK AND HOUSEWORK TOO

Surprised to Find Herself Feeling So Well.

Taunton, Mass.—"I used to have pain in my back and legs so badly, with other troubles that women sometimes have, that my doctor ordered me to stay in bed a week in every month. It didn't do me much good, so one day after talking with a friend who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about the same troubles I had, I thought I would try it also.

I find that I can work in the laundry all through the time and do my housework too. Last month I was so surprised at myself to be up and around and feeling so good while before I used to feel completely lifeless. I have told some of the girls who work with me and have such troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I tell them how it has helped me. You can use my testimonial for the good of others."—Mrs. BLANCHE SILVIA, 59 Grant St., Taunton, Mass.

It's the same story—one friend telling another of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

At the Mystic on Friday

Edith Roberts will be the attraction at the Mystic Theatre Friday in "Opened Shutters", her latest Universal screen play in which she demonstrates her great dramatic versatility in a role of totally different sort from the parts in which she is most often enjoyed.

In "Opened Shutters", Miss Roberts is seen as a girl who leaves her father's funeral to go to his relatives in New England, whom, in her child-like heart, she has pictured as kindly old people. Instead she finds them of the kind who are always eager to cast the first stone against those who vary from their own shallow code of propriety.

At the Princess Next Week

"A Prince There Was," Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture coming to the Princess theatre Monday and Tuesday will hold a double attraction for the host of star admirers among film patrons. For Thomas Meighan, the star, is supported by Mildred Harris, former star in Lois Weber productions and who recently was seen in an important feminine lead in Cecil B. DeMille's production, "Pool's Paradise". Miss Harris, who is one of the most popular feminine stars of the silversheet, had an appealing role in the new picture and proves herself a capable leading woman for the "good luck", Paramount-star.

FOUR MACHINES IN ACCIDENT ON HILL

Car Driven by L. G. Hughes of This City Is Struck by Another West of Connersville

TWO OTHER OFF THE ROAD

Connersville, Jan. 19.—Four automobiles figured in accidents on Bunker Hill, three miles west of Connersville Tuesday night. A sheet of ice made the hill almost impassable and the cars were unable to stay in the road.

A machine occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Claude L. Weston, of Indianapolis was precipitated into a ditch and badly damaged, when it struck a car driven by L. G. Hughes, of Rushville. Hughes was traveling west. The occupants of both cars escaped uninjured. Dr. Ruddle who was enroute to Connersville to perform an operation, was driving the machine. The other car was also damaged.

A car driven by Dr. J. A. Walther of Glenwood, left the road and was damaged.

The name of the owner of another machine which figured in a mishap was not learned, but it is believed no one was injured.

Motorists from this city and points west were forced to detour because of the condition of the hill which could not be negotiated.

Guests Entertained at Weekly Meeting at K. of P. Building

Several guests were entertained at the regular weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club Wednesday, which was held at the Knights of Pythias building, the Pythian Sisters serving the meal.

The principal talk was made by C. M. George, who spoke on his classification in Kiwanis, which is insurance. All of the guests present also made short talks. The guests included William M. Louden, of Bloomington, Ind., general counsel for the Indiana inheritance tax appraiser; J. E. Ray of New Bethel, Ind., supervisor of live stock shipments for the I. & C. traction company and H. C. Porter, a shoe salesman.

Mars Hill, Mich.—"It's a pity that the very people who need to go to church never attend" said the Rev. William Hunter. He referred to the fact that several homes were ransacked while the householders attended prayer meeting.
